

The Lake George Examiner

Battlefield Park Alliance to hold ‘Magnificent Sculptures’ tours

October 1, 2025 by Gillian Burdett

The Lake George Battlefield Park Alliance is sponsoring free, expert-led tours of Battlefield Park’s sculptures on Sunday, Oct. 12, with a tour leaving from the Battlefield Park Visitor Center on Fort George Road at 1 p.m. and a second tour leaving at 3 p.m. The tours are part of the I Love NY Path Through History weekend.

The three recently restored sculptures, Battle of Lake George, Mohawk Warrior, and Isaac Jogues, serve as works of art and monuments to the history of the park and the Lake George Region. Local historians will lead the tours and discuss the history and significance of each monument.

Magnificent Sculptures of Lake George Battlefield Park tour program

- Battle of Lake George (1903): Richard R. Vietor, Chair, Patriotic Activities Committee, The Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York
- Mohawk Warrior (1921): Jay Levenson, Trustee, Lake George Battlefield Park Alliance
- Isaac Jogues (1939): Mark Silo, Historian and Author of “Sir William, Where Exactly Were Your Battle Lines?”; and Peter Wuerdeman, Secretary, Lake George Battlefield Park Alliance

The Alliance will provide all attendees with a full program on the day of the tour. The Visitor Center will remain open until 5 p.m. on Sunday and continue its regular schedule through the end of October.

Statue of Ignace dedicated in 1939